TWO DAYS HANDS ON WORKSHOP ON
“PLANT TISSUE CULTURE”
(7th & 8th March 2022)

On the occasion of National Science Day, we have organized the Two days Hands-onworkshop on Plant Tissue Culture. This workshop was conducted to get an insight into all the techniques of Plant tissue culture from basic to advance culture like Agrobacterium-mediated transformation. The Guest speaker and demonstrator of this workshop is Dr. Pradnya Kedari, ex-project Manager of the Plant Tissue culture division of Agarkar Research Institute, who has good experience in Plant Tissue Culture techniques. She has also emphasized how this skill is useful to get jobs and the importance of this technique in plant Biotechnology. In this workshop, 47 students have been registered from TY, SY, and a few FY classes of BSc Botany and completed hands-on training. With that, all 6 faculties of the Botany department are involved in this workshop. In this workshop first, welcome functions were conducted and proceeded with theoretical knowledge on PTC, and then hands-on experiments on tissue culture technique from media preparation to inoculation of seed, embryo, shoot, and leaf culture were performed. On the next day of the workshop theoretical explanation and practical on transformation and synthetic seed preparation were performed by students.
